

There are some inline images like this: $y = f(2x - 1)$. After conversion, the location of the images seems to change.